A HIGH CLASS CONSIGNMENT

Those who are planning on buying seed stock of a high rank cannot afford to miss attending this sale. This is Gallmeyer Bros.' first auction, but how many breeders are there that put into their first sale such cattle as are listed for this event. Gallmeyer Bros. are real cattlemen, real improvers of the breed, a fact which they have clearly demonstrated in the first showing they made at the Iowa State Fair of last season on the get of their bull, Village Knight, and later when they went to Chicago, and competed with the best of them at the International. When breeders can accomplish what they have in a show like the International is it not sufficient proof that they are producing the right class of goods?

A junior championship won in the greatest of all shows is a ribbon to be proud of, and it is conclusive evidence that the bull who sires such a specimen must be a real breeding bull. Village Knight is such a bull.

No son of Villager today has achieved a greater record. His get are of a uniform pattern, they have gone to the high places in America's best shows because they were entitled to win. The blood of this bull is worth having. It is represented all through the offering, and I am sure those who want the best seed available will plan to be at this sale.

FRANCIS T. MARTIN of The Breeders' Gazette.

I regard this offering as one that will please the man wanting a class of show and breeding stock that has made good because of the rich breeding represented and because Gallmeyer Brothers in founding their herd have spared no effort to secure the best. They have a great breeding bull in Village Knight and one of the best sons of Villager in use.

Anyone who will see the calves by this bull and will consider that his get have won in the strong shows, including the winning of the Junior Championship at a show like the International, must conclude that the blood of such a bull is improving in its character.

Breeders should turn out for this auction. This is a high-class lot of cattle, in fine breeding form and worthy of entry into the best herds.

CLARENCE N. MARTIN of The Iowa Homestead.

Gallmeyer Bros. may well take pride in presenting this catalog of their first annual sale. The cattle listed are deserving of the attention of every lover of good Shorthorns. Among the cattle which are being presented will be found the entire lot of show ring champions which have been the subject of so much favorable comment during recent months. Village Knight, the sterling son of Imp. Villager, which heads the Parkview herd, may be classed as one of the real improvers of the breed. His service among the carefully selected and fashionably bred females in this herd has resulted in an offspring of superior merit. Sons and daughters of Village Knight as well as some of the dams of the show ring champions carrying his service should warrant a liberal expenditure on the part of any breeder to make the trip to this sale and partake of the cattle listed.

Excellent blood lines, remarkable individuality and fitness to the point where every animal will go out and work to best advantage for the new owners are the assets which are being offered in this sale. This catalog is worthy of your close study. It is a pleasure to recommend such an offering to prospective buyers of Shorthorn cattle.

HAL LONGLEY of the Shorthorn World.
